30 COMMUNITY BOARDS IN N. H.

Daniel T. O'Connell of Dorchester, federal organizer of the U. S. employment service, has completed his work in New Hampshire, the first assignment he had, and will leave for Washington tonight to take up new work. As a result of his efforts New Hampshire takes rank 15th the first states in the union which have completed the organization of the community boards, 30 in number in that state.

Mr. O'Connell has spoken to scores of audiences in New Hampshire during his four weeks there, ranging from a war meeting called by Gov. Keyes to the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, held at Laconia Thursday when he shared the honors with Thomas Mott Osborne in addressing a small community gathering of a dozen or less.

Mr. O'Connell was a revelation to the New Hampshire people in his intensive campaign being something to which they were not accustomed. His connection with Congressmen Naphen and ex-Mayor Fitzgerald as secretary was of invaluable assistance to him in his organization work.

The argument he pressed home to the New Hampshire gatherings and which applies with equal force to Massachusetts was that co-operative force is needed to win the war.

"It requires the productive labor of not less than four civilians to provide supplies to keep one soldier well fed, clothed and armed for action," he declared, "figures prove what part the average citizen, man and woman, must play between now and July 1, 1919, in helping to beat Germany to her knees."

The department of labor declares that on July 31, 1918, the total number of men, women and children engaged in war-related occupations was 55,000,000. We have in France for training in this country, or in the naval service, approximately: Army, 2,500,000; navy, 600,000; a total of 3,100,000. At present working in war industries and providing supplies for the army and navy there should be 12,000,000.

Gen. Pershing has asked that by July 1, 1919, he be furnished with 4,500,000 soldiers. Assuming that today there are in France approximately 3,500,000 soldiers, it follows that by July 1, 1919, the additional shipments of troops will total 2,500,000 more which divided among the 40 remaining weeks would mean approximate average shipments weekly of 62,500 men.

For each weekly shipment of troops the civilian population must enroll for industrial war labor at the ratio of four or four such civilians to keep one soldier supplied. This involves the enrollment of 250,000 men and women in employment that is producing some form of war supplies. Thus by July 1, 1919, the total of men and women engaged in such work must be 15,000,000.

"The navy by that time will probably have a total enrollment of 750,000 and to supply them alone there will be needed 3,000,000 workers. If we have in our cantonments and military posts approximately 1,000,000 soldiers, we shall have need for an additional 4,000,000 workers."

It follows then that by July 1, 1919, the total number of men and women to work in war industries and occupations will be as follows: To supply Pershing's army, 48,000,000; to supply the navy, 3,000,000; to supply those in training, 4,000,000; a total of 55,000,000 persons.

"The task is big the responsibility great and the opportunity to help is inspiring. The United States employment service needs the immediate co-operation of all who can engage in any form of productive war labor."

—Boston Herald.

KITTERY POINT

Kittery Point, Sept. 22.—The death of Marjorie Pepperrell Cutts occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chester Cutts on Saturday, September 21, aged 24 years. Miss Cutts was a graduate from Traill Academy, after which she taught school in Brentwood, N. H., later entering Gorham Normal school. After graduating from there she accepted a position as teacher in a higher grade school in Everett, Mass. She had not been well during the summer vacation and was under the care of a physician and improved so much in health she returned to her school in Everett two weeks ago, feeling in usual health until Thursday when an attack of her old malady returned. She came to her home here on Friday and so suddenly did her life terminate that several members of her family were not present at the moment. She was a young woman of high principles, sensible and kindly, a life without a blemish. Her friends will find the world less bright without her. Besides her parents she leaves four sisters and two brothers, the older, Joseph, being at Camp Devens. Mr. and Mrs. Cutts have the deepest sympathy of the community in their sorrow. The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock from the First Congregational church of which she was a member, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Capt. Albert H. Adams and family returned to Portsmouth Sunday for the winter after spending the summer on their yacht Alberta in Pepperrell Cove.

Mr. Scott Wilson of Portland recently appointed judge of the supreme court of Maine is a descendant of the Fernald family of Kittery; so also is Senator Fernald of Maine.

The Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Red Cross which was to have been held at the Community House will be postponed until Thursday when that society and the Society in Aid of French Wounded will hold an all day session at the home of Mrs. George Quantson. A basket lunch will be served at noon, the members of both societies are invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Frisbee and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frisbee and family have returned to Portsmouth after spending the summer at Tavistock.

Miss Frieda Emery has taken employment on the navy yard.

Mrs. V. H. Goodwin has returned from a visit with friends in Gloucester, Mass.

The people of this section were interested and enthused last evening by an address given by Lieut. Comdr. Thomas Mott Osborne, the first Congressional chaplain being filled to its capacity awaiting the speaker.

Mr. Osborne spoke on Prison Reform, relating incidents and various personal instances taken from his years of experience in prison work. Following an outline of his experience at the Sing Sing prison, he sketched the more recent local happenings at the Portsmouth Naval Prison. He told of the honor roll and method of self government instituted and the excellent results. A goodly sum was contributed by the audience for the local work. Mrs. Oscar Clark sang, adding pleasantness to the program.

SHATTUCK TEAM IS CHAMPION

Beat Out Shoe Machinery Team at Woonsocket in Benefit Game on Sunday.

The L. H. Shattuck baseball team met the United Shoe Machinery Team at Woonsocket on Sunday and won 7 to 5. This final game gives the local whiffy team the semi-professional championship of New England. The game was for the benefit of the K. of C. war fund and drew a large crowd.

The Shattuck team donated their share of the receipts for the fund and the only expense was that of traveling. The Shoe Machinery team had the Shipyard 4 to 1 up to the seventh inning when the Shattucks came across with a battling rally.

Bill Tyler, who pitched for the Shipbuilders, was a bit unsteady at first, but settled down and did good work. Hank's support failed at times. The score:

"SHOCK TROOPS" SAVING FOOD FOR WINTER USE

Uncle Sam is depending a great deal on the "shock troops" of the Food Conservation Army—those housewives who have proved themselves loyal and faithful in conserving food, to lead the big home-canning drive this summer. It is no secret that the aim of this drive is an ambitious one. Its purpose is to "hoard" in glass jars 1,000,000,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables and distribute them on pantry shelves of every home in the country.

A big order? Yes, but the "shock troops" of housewives are steadily gaining ground. Every night sees hundreds, yes, thousands of jars of new produce put away against winter's needs.

Even the boys and girls are taking a part in this big canning drive. Hardly a community in the country, large or small, is without a children's canning club.

As the troops at the front are backed by the help and cooperation of those behind the lines, so those in the canning drive are backed by the manufacturers. The manufacturers have standardized the quality of their rubber rings so that the canner can be fairly sure this year of getting good ones.

The manufacturers of glass jars, stone crockery, tin cans and floor boxes are also cooperating in securing a sufficient supply to meet the summer's demands.

The Food Administration is making every effort possible to protect the supply of sugar from greedy consumers so that the housewives may have enough for canning.

All is ready and the drive is on. Are you lagging in the rear or are you in the lead?

BOSTON HAS SECOND LARGEST DEATH LIST

(By Associated Press) Boston, Sept. 22.—Forty-four deaths from influenza and 19 from pneumonia have been reported by the Board of Health in the past twenty-four hours. This is the second largest day since the disease started.

Naval authorities report that the disease is diminishing in the second naval district. Dr. W. C. Woodward of the Boston Board of Health said that he expected about the same number of deaths for a few days, but expected that the clearing weather would cause a diminishing in the cases.

Several schools are closed and the Boston and Carney hospitals have issued notices that they will not take any more of these cases, being crowded at present.

Ayer, Mass., Sept. 22.—Twenty-eight deaths from influenza and the resulting pneumonia among the soldiers in Camp Devens have been reported by the military authorities. There has been a decrease of 200 cases and the outlook is better.

DARTMOUTH WILL NOT PLAY FOOTBALL

(By Associated Press) Hanover, Sept. 22.—Dartmouth college will not have a varsity football team this fall and all intercollegiate athletics will be given up until after the war. In making the announcement the Athletic committee explained that the college was not an army training school.

The Ammonoosuc took her maiden dip in the waters of the Piscataqua at a few minutes after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the presence of several thousand spectators. The weather failed to in any way dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd and a mighty cheer went up as the big hull gracefully glided into the waters. The launching stand was beautifully decorated with the flags of our Allies.

It was interesting to watch the crew of men under the ship as they answered the command, Asst. Supt. W. B. Greene and Foreman J. E. Mitchell and 22. P. Maxim worked as one man. At the bow and with his hand feeling the ship's pulse so to speak, was Master Builder Reuben Green. At the hour mentioned above he turned to the sponsor, Mrs. Robert Jackson and said "She will move in a moment," and as he spoke the huge hull started, smothered the bottle of champagne and the sponsor shouted, "I christen thee Ammonoosuc." She got away beautifully and as she tossed about in the river Captain T. B. Hoyt was there with his tug to receive her and the fifth ship was ready from the big yard for duty. The prayer at the launching hour was by Rev. John F. Gould of Newington and it was most appropriate. The ship is of the same size and dimensions as all the other ships and she is named after one of our New Hampshire rivers.

Let Everybody Help.

The time for the Rockingham County Fair and the Harvest Carnival is rapidly approaching and the committees in charge are busy in completing preparations for the event, which is expected to be the best of its kind in the history of this section.

As previously announced in these columns, the date of the fair is October 1, 2 and 3. The harvest carnival will be a conspicuous feature, in which the merchants of the city will assist by giving the use of their show windows for the display of fruits and vegetables from the farms and gardens. The harvest carnival held last year was a success, and there will be an effort to make the coming one still more complete and successful. In connection with the fair there will be an excellent racing program, with all the other features that go to make up an agricultural exhibition of this character, including the biggest and best midway ever seen in Portsmouth. The enterprise will have the support of the Rockingham County Farmers' Association and the Grange, and if the people of the city take hold as they should the fair cannot fail to be a pronounced success, provided the weather is favorable.

The agricultural fair, properly conducted, still has its uses and can bring about excellent results.

Not the least of these is the bringing together of all classes of the community for a season of good fellowship and the interchange of ideas. It is well that the farmers and gardeners should exhibit the results of their labors on the land, that the best stock and poultry should be offered for inspection and that the women should display samples of their handiwork. The person who visits such an exhibition for the purpose of learning is sure to add to his store of knowledge, and the sociability that goes with the genuine country fair constitutes no small part of its value.

The arrangements for the coming fair and carnival are in the hands of competent committees, and with proper support on the part of the public the event cannot fail to be a success. The men and women and the boys and girls of Portsmouth and vicinity should do everything in their power to aid in making the event all that it ought to be, and there is reason to believe they will.

The campaign of newspaper advertising in behalf of the Liberty Loan has opened and the business men of the city are expected by the committee in charge of the drive to rise to the occasion, as they undoubtedly will. All are aware that newspaper advertising is the best publicity in the world. In this campaign it is to be used extensively throughout the country, and it is quite safe to assume that Portsmouth will not be permitted to suffer in comparison with other cities.

Just now the question of a coal supply for this city for the coming winter is somewhat disturbing, due to the announcement that the allotment has been cut, and this notwithstanding the fact that the population has been much increased. Yet it will be best not to get excited. If a mistake has been made it will undoubtedly be corrected, and it will be well not to begin to shiver until we are actually obliged to.

The Railroad Administration and the Emergency Fleet Corporation want men enough left on the railroads and in the shipyards to keep the trains going and the ships coming. And the demands of both must be respected if the good work being done at the front is not to be offset by a grievous mistake at the rear.

In the priorities list fuel for domestic consumption is in Class 1. This sounds well, and now if they would send along the coal so that those who "ordered early," but haven't yet got a pound in their cellars, could obtain a supply there would be a better feeling all along the line.

In 68 words, in dealing with the Austrian peace feeler, President Wilson has won more glory than he has from any speech he has made or message he has written since the United States entered the war. His answer to Austria is an adorable example of condensation.

Talaat Pasha, grand vizier of Turkey, thinks the enemies of the Central Powers, not excluding America, "will shortly come to recognize that there is no sense in continuing the hostilities." Are the Central Powers themselves gradually coming to that conclusion?

The Germans these days must be wondering what the recent rumpus in this country over airplanes meant. The reports from day to day indicate that the Allies are not lacking in this particular form of war equipment.

It is announced that there is to be no ban on the manufacture of soft drinks. But they have got to be mighty soft to "get by" in this state.

A MONUMENT IN HONOR OF OUR FALLEN SONS

The Herald Proposes One for the First to Fall, Lieutenant Booma.

The Herald proposes a monument to the first son of Portsmouth to fall in the great world war, Lieut. Frank Booma. He was a native of Portsmouth, a clean, self-made man. It is suggested that the monument could be erected so as to include all killed. How can it be done. The Herald suggests that the expense be met by popular subscription and it is proposed that a committee of citizens handle the proposition and that the contributions be acknowledged through the Herald. Let us have your expression through the columns of the Herald. Write just what you think about it and how it should be handled.

A LETTER FROM THE INSIDE

Put the Prisoners in the Army?

Editor—I and hundreds of other readers of your paper were greatly pleased to read the piece in the People's Opinion column of Sept. 11, in regard to the Naval Prison on Seavey's Island. Every word was true. I am in a position to see these happy and contented naval prisoners daily and all of them are of draft age, 18 to 35 years old. That little item has made many of its readers very thoughtful, especially what is left of families who have a brother, father or son, and in some cases all three, in the trenches over there. But still this haven and paradise (Seavey's Island) is kept open for draft dodgers and slackers. I am enclosing a few papers to show you I am not speaking at random, and at the same time to let your readers know what is going on in the naval prison while the country is at war and needs men for all branches of the service and skilled and unskilled labor for much needed war work.

George W. Lonergan, the first Portsmouth boy to be mentioned for bravery on the French battlefield, is a private in the 104th U. S. Infantry and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lonergan of Stark street and was 21 years old last April.

At the time of enlistment he was employed with the General Electric Company of Lynn, Mass. He formerly was employed by Arthur Dedes. He was educated in the local public schools and later attended the Plymouth Business School.

You don't know how good it makes me feel to hear that everybody at home is well. When I get the mail the first I open is the letter from home.

We have as you know, a priest with us, Father Duval, a K. of C. chaplain. He is fearless. He was decorated by the French government for bravery.

My arm is entirely better now. It was burned they say by some gas. I must have stuck my arm on something the Germans left behind.

That was quite a celebration about our victory and I can say I was there to see the Germans retreat. I only wish you could see the thousands of prisoners that come straggling in. I hear from John Cronin, and also had a letter from Johnny Moran who is "Over here."

BURGLARS NOW BUSY AT DOVER

Three House Breaks on Saturday Night; Dog Keeps Them Away From One Place.

Burglars were engaged in extensive operations at Dover on Saturday night and would have been successful in four places had it not been for a big dog guarding a house. According to the police they got into three places between 9 and 11 o'clock.

The first break occurred at the residence of Dr. Flanders on Hamilton street where a gold watch, stick pin and other valuables were taken. Dr. Flanders returning home shortly after 9 o'clock noticed a light in the house and just as he entered he heard the thief escaping through the pantry window. He notified the police at once and although the officers were present ten minutes later, they were unable to get a line on the man. The next job was carried out at the residence of Fred Neal on Rutland street where the robber broke open a bank and collected the contents, also some jewelry.

The residence of Charles Cushing of Broadway was included in the itinerary but here the thief is said to have got but little for his work.

A big dog sleeping right under the window at the home of George Welch on Central avenue prevented any long stay of the raiders at this place.

Most of the breaks were made by forcing open windows and in one case a key was used. The work at Dover corresponds exactly with that which has been carried on in this city for several months. The police there were busy throughout the night but could make no headway in rounding up the thieves.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO LIBRARY AND STORE

Cut and Prepare a Roast of Pork for Sunday Dinner During Operations.

Burglars operating in Elliot on Saturday night got into two places in that town and succeeded in getting a good Sunday dinner if nothing more. They forced an entrance at the public library and thoroughly ransacked the place, taking only a small amount of money found there. At the store of John Raitt at Gould's Corner they helped themselves to cake, candy, cigars, cigarettes and a fine roast of pork which they took time to cut off and prepare for Sunday consumption.

London, Sept. 23.—Serbian troops have cut the main railway line between Uskub and Salunika and are on the western bank of the Vardar River according to the Serbian official statement of Sunday. West of the river the Serbians have cut the railway line to Trilip which is the main line of the Kriman communication. In this region, infantry units are now in the mountainous region and advanced 25 miles in one day. The number of prisoners and the amount of war material captured increases daily. The neighboring German and Hungarian sectors are now feeling the lack of their communication lines. Heavy reinforcements have been forced to retire. Since Sept. 15th the Serbians have advanced 40 miles.

Mitchell D. Cohen, a bell boy at one of the local hotels, died of pneumonia. Both were taken ill a week ago Saturday and their cases developed into pneumonia.

Sunday, William Barsantee, aged 45, a workman at the yard, passed away from pneumonia after less than a week's illness which started with the influenza, and there were two deaths at the Naval hospital on Saturday night.

Through New England there seems to be a lull in the number of cases and the health authorities at Boston claimed yesterday that the epidemic was well under control.

Local physicians report a number of cases in this city, but think that it has not reached an epidemic state as yet. Their advice is to give in as soon as you get a bad cold and remain in bed. In other words don't take any chances.

BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

The bearers were Marshal Michael Hurley, Deputy Marshal George H. Ducker, and Officers Michael Kelley, Robert Anderson, James Doherty and George Mulholland of the police department, from which the deceased was granted a leave of absence to enter the navy. Undertaker J. Verne Woods was the funeral director.

E. J. Cowan, a sailor whose home was in Philadelphia, and A. P. Flanagan, a sailor who enlisted at Chicago, died on Saturday night at the Naval hospital, after an illness of only a few days with pneumonia, which developed from influenza. They were the two first deaths from the disease at this hospital.

BELGIUM NEEDS YOUR OLD CLOTHING

The great Red Cross drive for clothing for the Belgians is on this week and everybody should get busy and look over their clothing. Fancy clothing is not wanted, but good serviceable clothing is. It can be mended up or cut over into children's clothing and is greatly needed. Don't bother to mend up the clothing—the women of Belgium will be glad to do that.

Woolen clothing, skirts, dresses, suits, both men's and women's, overcoats, underwears, etc., are all required as well as old shoes. If they are beyond repairing the uppers may be used, for Belgium is woefully lacking in leather of any description. No rubber will be accepted.

When one stops to realize that the people of Belgium are almost naked for want of clothing, and that they are making clothing out of burlap, carpets or anything at all, they get an idea of what a castoff suit of clothing or a warm coat, even if somewhat worn, means to these brave people. Germany has robbed them of all of the clothing materials, both raw and finished product, and now even the flimsy are hard up for clothing.

The receiving depot for the Red Cross, who are in charge of this Belgian relief work, will be at the Old Court House on Court street and it will be open three afternoons this week from two to five o'clock. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Gifts of clothing or shoes may be sent there and they will be properly cared for and packed for shipment to the Boston headquarters from whence they will be shipped across. Don't leave any papers in the pockets or any address on clothing. This is forbidden and may result in the clothes being held up.

Y. W. C. A. LAUNCH EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

The state committee for the educational campaign which is being launched by the Y. W. C. A. has appointed Miss Martha S. Kimball of this city to direct the work in Rockingham County. Miss Kimball, who is widely known in public life, has accepted the responsibility and is engaged in working out details with which she will be assisted by a sub chairman from each town in the county. The proposed campaign will be for the information of the public as to the extent of work done by the Y. W. C. A. one of the seven organizations that will enter into the United War Work Campaign in November which will drive for $175,000,000.

The work that the Y. W. C. A. is doing in the munition plants alone justifies the existence of the War Work Council and is bringing to individual attention what the "Blue Triangle" stands for. During the past summer 22 cantonments, employing large numbers of girls and women were opened and by request of the government through the ordnance department the Y. W. C. A. is caring for the recreation and social life of those women and girls who are "doing their bit" just as much as the men in the trenches.

SATURDAY NIGHT BURGLAR COMES DOWN TOWN

Our Saturday night burglar slipped away from the residential section of the city on Saturday night and proceeded to stock up with winter clothing, at the expense of Louis Abrams on Daniel street.

The break was discovered on Sunday morning when Mr. Adams went to his store. Entrance had been gained by breaking a rear window and the thief took away with him an overcoat, a hat and several pairs of stockings and other small wearing apparel. He failed to leave any clue and with a twelve-hours cold trail there was not much hopes of getting any clue.

EXETER

Exeter, Sept. 23.—Clinton S. Rowe, brother of Rockingham county treasurer Stewart E. Rowe, has received a commission as second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery. He has been for the past few months at the fifth officers' training camp at Fort Monmouth, Va. Lieut. Rowe is a graduate of the Exeter high school, and later attended the New Hampshire college from which he was forced to withdraw owing to serious illness.

At the beginning of the present war with Germany he was the first man to enlist from his native town of Kensington, joining the Exeter company of the Coast Artillery, and went out with that unit to Fort Stark at New Castle, where he remained during the past winter, and in the early spring went to the training camp.

His father, Benjamin Rowe, was a member of the Massachusetts Volunteer militia, and an uncle, Charles Rowe, was a member of the 3d N. H. volunteers, both serving in the Civil war. His uncle was killed in the battle of Deep Bottom, Va., in his first engagement.

Questionnaires to the number of 100 daily are being sent out by the draft board of Division 3 of Rockingham county draft district. There is a call for a quota of 18 men to go to Camp Devens on Oct. 7, but as two take examinations elsewhere, two eliminate deferred classification owing to agricultural work, and one being ill, will make the number 13. These are registrants of the former draft, and not the last one.

The dining room of the Squamscott house, long Exeter's leading hotel, closed its doors last evening, and the hotel itself will close on Oct. 1. It is doubtful if an attempt is made to reopen it during the war time.

Chester Pease of Boston, a former Exeter resident, is visiting relatives here.

Two staves for burning wood were placed in the Rockingham county building Saturday, and owing to the scarcity of coal will be in use there for a time.

The body of John Torrey of Portsmouth, and well known here, was brought to Newfields for burial Saturday afternoon. For many years he was a prominent citizen of Newfields, where he was engaged in business. He was in the legislature in 1905 representing Newfields.

You at Home, Get in Line!

Add to the glory our boys win in France!
The patriot savers who loan the Government money with which to buy ships, guns, planes, munitions and food receive deserved praise.

AT HOME

By Mary Louise Townsend, Washington, D. C.

If you cannot fight in France,
Fight at home!
There are battles to be won,
Deeds of valor to be done,
Then from dawn to set of sun
Fight—fight at home!

If you cannot sing in France,
Sing at home!
Songs to soothe and songs to cheer,
Songs of home and country dear,
All are needed "Over Here,"
Sing—sing at home!

If you cannot pray in France,
Then pray at home!
That those who stay and those who go
Courage high and faith may know
When "here" and "there" they meet the foe,
Pray, oh pray at home!

All you yearn to do in France
Do at home!
Not for human eyes to share
Is the medal you shall wear,
'Twill be Heaven's Croix de Guerre
Won—won at home!

Save to Buy and Buy to Keep

More men, more ships, more food and munitions are absolutely required to win this war.
